Dear NGO Representative,

I am pleased to inform you that the Economic and Social Council (ECOSOC) at its Substantive Session of July 2011 adopted the recommendation of the Committee on Non-Governmental Organizations (NGOs) to grant Special consultative status to your organization "Udyama". On behalf of all staff of the Non-Governmental Organizations Branch, please accept our heartfelt congratulations.

Consultative status for an organization enables it to actively engage with ECOSOC and its subsidiary bodies, as well as with the United Nations Secretariat, programmes, funds and agencies in a number of ways. In order to better understand this relationship, we take this opportunity to provide some critical information about the privileges that consultative status with ECOSOC confers on your organization, as well as the obligations that your organization will be required to meet under this relationship. We therefore urge you to take the time to carefully review the information we have provided below.

Privileges and benefits of consultative status

1) ECOSOC Resolution 1996/31

- Arrangements for consultations with NGOs are regulated by ECOSOC resolution 1996/31, adopted by the Council on 25 July 1996. Please review the entire resolution at: <http://csonet.org/content/documents/199631.pdf> for detailed information. It provides information on ways to participate in the work of the Council, including opportunities to organizations such as yours to consult with Member States and the United Nations system at large, based on the nature and scope of work that your organization undertakes. Consultative relationship with NGOs also enables the Council or one of its bodies to seek expert information or advice from organizations with special competence in a subject matter.
- Consultative status allows you to be informed about the provisional agenda of the Economic and Social Council;
- Organizations in general consultative status may request the Secretary-General, through the Committee on Non-Governmental Organizations, to place items of special interest in the provisional agenda of the Council.

Our extended and enhanced learning outreach with local, regional, international organizations on micro-macro linkages towards resilience building has been well built as the community is first UDYAMA is deeply advocating localizing the SDGs and pursuing local action & global networking & influencing policy for risk-informed resilient development, local carbon sequestration as part of community adaptation with special to the advancement of protection of local food forest, nutrition boosting & biodiversity along with a cross-sector integration as Human Development matter. UDYAMA is undertaking alternate livelihood models & employable market-led life skills building for safe migration connecting sources and destinations in an urban setting with added innovation for cluster growth Odisha and neighboring states that have well connected.

Further UDYAMA ensures evidence-based Demonstration, Local action, Local Perspective: There will be a model of Integrated farming with at least two models in a block apart from sporadic work. Restore and protect ecosystems, supporting nature's ability to draw down carbon, as well as safeguarding biodiversity, food security, water recharge, & convergent action. Fact that our multisector approach is to link to the broader view of Poverty & poverty alleviation that goes beyond just income, it highlights the crucial role of 'local context' and how this influences the asset base. Gives spaces to local perspectives, Local Action - categorize the strategies that make up their livelihoods. Build on what exists -

SUSTAINABLE FOOD SYSTEMS AND NUTRITION HEALTHY DIETARY PATTERNS

Some of the essential transformations needed to meet the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) are elaborated in the Global Sustainable Development Report (GSDR) 2019 and the political declaration of the high-level political forum 2019. These transformations are mutually reinforcing and strongly linked to the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). The report identifies six entry points and four levers to accelerate progress across all 17 SDGs at the global level, one of them being Food Systems and Nutrition Patterns.

I. SUSTAINABLE FOOD SYSTEMS AND HEALTHY NUTRITION IN ASIA AND THE PACIFIC

Feeding an ever-increasing population with scarce resources and in a sustainable manner while limiting environmental pollution, lowering carbon emissions and minimizing human health risks is the persistent challenge of our times. Building sustainable food systems and healthy nutrition patterns is particularly relevant for the region where close to 489 million people remain undernourished, while a simultaneous rise in obesity and overweight is costing the region upwards of 0.78% of its GDP or US$166 billion annually. The UN Decade of Action on Nutrition offers a unique opportunity to all countries and stakeholders to unite around a common framework and to increase the visibility, coordination, efficiency and effectiveness of nutrition action at all levels across the world.

Strengthening sustainable food systems and healthy dietary patterns integrates SDG 2- Zero Hunger; SDG 6- Clean water and sanitation; SDG 9- Industry innovation and infrastructure; and SDG 12 - Sustainable consumption and production. It also has a major influence on SDG 3 - Good health and wellbeing, and links to many other SDGs.

Entry point 1 - Human well-being and capabilities, Entry point 2 - Sustainable and just economies, Entry point 3 - Food systems and nutrition patterns, Entry point 4 - Energy decarbonization and universal access, Entry point 5 - Urban and peri-urban development, Entry point 6 - Global environmental commons, Level 1- Governance, Level 2- Economy and Finance, Level 3- Individual and Collective Action, Level 4- Science and Technology

Sub: Thinking through the idea of University Community Linkage.

Dear Sir,

I would like to convey my sincere appreciation for your outstanding efforts at facilitating the ongoing dialogue on the subject cited above with several rounds of critical deliberations with academicians from various universities and colleges of Odisha, social activists and policy planners to help shape up our proposed initiative in the above direction.

I would like to note that these rounds of discussion on the theme has significantly foregrounded the thinking that though quality education has imparted market-bonded towards professional growth of students and teachers in the contemporary digital age yet the perceptible gap in terms of addressing pressing concerns of the planet today in terms of community coherence, ecosystem, cultural biodiversity and global warming skewed development of urban space in the conceptual universe of the intelligentsia continues to be increasingly visible.

In the context of this, I would like to reiterate that Ravenshaw University and its constituent department of History have representation and willingness to be part of this initiative. Our commitment participation, as we have brainstormed, will be especially for doing more research up research in these areas, policy advocacy, dialogue for framework development, debate for innovation and inclusion of course curriculum and discourses for strategic engagement for Agenda for 2030 which is one of the priorities of SDGs.

We look forward to a strong collaborative association and research pertaining to this current project. Proposal for a 10YFP Programme on Sustainable Buildings and Construction (SBC)
 Submitted to the 10YFP Secretariat

TITLE OF THE PROGRAMME: SUSTAINABLE BUILDINGS AND CONSTRUCTION PROGRAMME (SBC)
Rationale and background

The Sustainable Buildings and Construction Programme (SBC) contributes to the 10-Year Framework of Programmes on Sustainable Consumption and Production (10YFP on SCP). The 10YFP is a global framework of action to enhance international cooperation to accelerate the shift towards SCP. It develops, replicates and scales up SCP and resource efficiency initiatives, at national and regional levels, working to decouple environmental degradation and resource use from economic growth, and thus increases the net contribution of economic activities to poverty eradication and social development.

SBC aims at fulfilling of the 10YFP actions:

- to promote the added value of a sustainable consumption and production approach
- to share information and tools to learn best practices
- to increase cooperation and networking among all stakeholders
- to foster integration of SCP into decision-making at all levels
- to raise awareness and engage civil society, with a particular focus on the education system
- to facilitate access to technical assistance, training, financing, technology and capacity building
- to strengthen and make use of scientific and technological capacities
- to promote the engagement of the private sector to achieve shift towards SCP
- to foster innovation and new ideas, while increasing recognition of traditional knowledge.

Buildings and construction have major impacts on our environment. In its resource use (land, materials, energy, water), emissions (GHG, particulates, waste) and on biodiversity. These sectors can also play an important role in improving the environment by cleaning polluted areas and recycling not only its own waste streams but those of other sectors in its own production and consumption. In addition, buildings contribute to human health, safety and comfort. Construction activities provide employment and innovation opportunities for both genders and to the youth. The built environment represents an important share of national wealth. Thus, the SBC programme provides an excellent platform for contributing to sustainable consumption and production together with Sustainable Public Procurement, Consumer Information, Sustainable Tourism and Sustainable Lifestyles and Education programmes in a complementary way.

The overall aim of the programme is to achieve a situation, by 2030, where:

"All stakeholders involved in the planning, commissioning, design, construction, use, management and deconstruction of buildings have a common understanding of sustainable buildings and the knowledge, resources and incentives required to create, maintain and use them; structures that are healthy to live and work in, that responsibly utilize energy, water, land and other key resources, respecting environmental limits, and ultimately have a minimally adverse impact on the natural world, supporting social and economic development."

To whom it may concern,

This is to inform you that your application to be a LOCAL WATER FORUM of the Social Engagement Workstream of the World Water Quality Alliance, convened by the United Nations Environment Programme was approved on Monday, the 13th of March 2023.

The Social Engagement workstream transforms the work of the World Water Quality Alliance into the basis for relevant policy creation, and water quality data into a source of unrivalled information with which to provide the population as a whole, with a clear objective picture of water-based issues. It is capable of addressing the needs of a broad social community or those of a specific group, be they youth, women, SMEs, or often ignored small rural communities.

Sustainable inter-sectoral collaboration, the fostering of local solutions for global issues, the transformation of knowledge into action and the translation of complex data into simple accessible knowledge will constitute an important step towards enabling stakeholders of being more capable of mitigating the effects of the mistakes of the past.

The initiative which you represent is an important part of a global movement to build bridges between supranational objectives and local community actions and is capable mobilizing action on water quality within your local community whilst being fully involved in the transformation of water quality knowledge into practical public measures.

We are delighted to welcome you to the World Water Quality Alliance and we look forward to working closely with you in the coming years.

You will be contacted shortly by Lesha Witmer and invited to the next meeting of the Social Engagement Workstream.

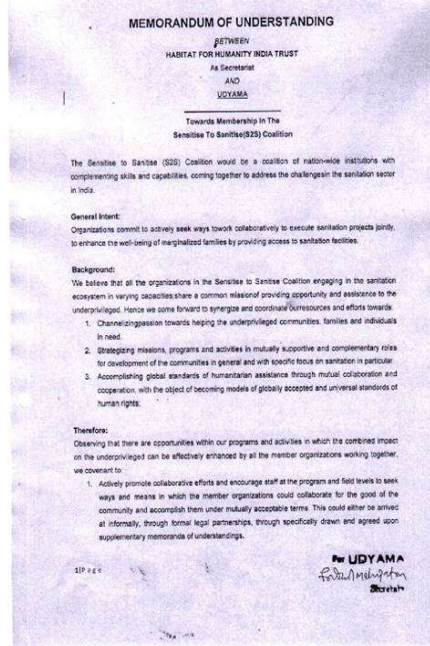

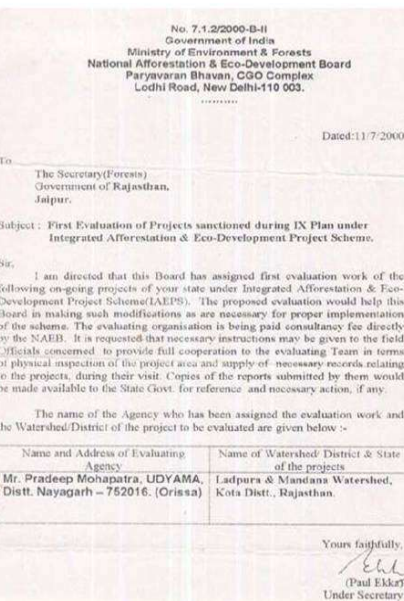

Your faithfully,
Nina Raasakka, Anham Salyani and Richard Eielman

Dear Pradeep Mohapatra,

Subject: Collaboration between UDYAMA and COVIDActionCollab (CAC) for High Impact Interventions

This letter is to certify that UDYAMA is a partner of CAC and both parties have agreed to collaborate for the implementation of the High Impact interventions of CAC.

CAC is a people-centric, partnership-led, multi-disciplinary network that synergizes, augments and accelerates the impact of partners (implementers, providers and enablers) in their effort to support vulnerable communities to survive and thrive through humanitarian crises (like COVID-19) by ensuring relief, recovery and resilience building. Swasti is a registered not for profit organisation and part of the Catalyst Group of institutions, working across 25 countries South Asia, South East Asia and parts of East Africa.

Founded in 1997, registered under Societies Act 1860, UDYAMA primarily aims towards strengthening and building capacities of local communities towards rejuvenating human ecological, social, economical capital & well-being improvement with a view to changing the culture of cultivating solutions towards "Resilience, Recovery & Adaptation" in blending with time honoured improved technology transformation with well articulated development communication incorporating inclusion, innovations to address next development challenge UDYAMA envisages cross sector integration towards sustainable communities with Learnin

¹ A take off from WHO's healthy days. We define it as Health + Wealth = Healthy days + financial resilience to meet any health incidents, including catastrophic.

² Three parts = 1. Prevent, preventable conditions 2. Screen and treat undiagnosed conditions 3. U Salutogenesis approach to promote wellness - healthy sleep, water, sanitation, air, habits, etc - at individual, family and community levels.
